- This work was engaged in by its accomplished Author from the love he bore to his native county, and a casual glance at the beautiful volume will at once show there could be no prospect of gain in its publication. Commencing with the Roman remains existing in the county, the History is continued down to the present day, and presents many engaging pictures of quiet country life, not to speak of those Border raids and forays, fire raisings, and other events of stirring days, now happily past away. The book is essentially interesting, and will well repay perusal.

RECENT PURCHASES.

- 3045 Evans' Catalogue of Engraved British Portraits, comprising 80,000 Portraits of Persons connected with the History and Literature of Great Britain, the British Colonies, and the United States of America, &c., &c., accompanied by Concise Biographical Notices, 2 vols. 8vo, bds, 10s 6d

J. S. having purchased nearly the entire stock of Portraits collected by Mr. Evans, will be happy to receive orders from his Catalogue

- 3046 Magna Charta. An Exact Facsimile of the Original Document, preserved in the British Museum, very carefully drawn, and printed on fine plate paper, nearly 3 feet long by 2 wide, with the ARMS AND SEALS OF THE BARONS ELABORATELY EMBLAZONED IN GOLD AND COLOURS. A.D. 1215. 5s., by post on roller 5s 4d Copied by express permission, and the only correct drawing of the Great Charter ever taken. This important memorial of the liberties and rights of Englishmen is admirably adapted for framing, and would hang with propriety from the walls of every house in the country. It was executed by Mr. Harrison, under whose auspices the splendid work on the Knights of the Garter was produced some years ago.
- 3047 Roll of Battle Abbey; or, a List of the Principal Warriors who came over from Normandy with William the Conqueror, and settled in this country, A.D. 1066-7, from Authentic Documents, very carefully drawn, and printed on fine plate paper, nearly 3 feet long by 2 feet wide, with the ARMS OF THE PRINCIPAL BARONS ELABORATELY EMBLAZONED IN GOLD AND COLOURS. 5s, by post on roller 5s 4d
A most curious document, and of the greatest interest, as the descendants of nearly all these Norman Conquerors are at this moment living amongst us, bearing the old Anglo-Norman names, slightly altered, but little dreaming of the relationship betwixt them and the bold warriors who fought and won at Hastings nearly a thousand years ago. The writing of the period is very legible. No names are believed to be in this "Battle Roll" which are not fully entitled to the distinction
- 3048 Warrant to Execute Charles I. An Exact Facsimile of this Important Document in the House of Lords, with the FIFTY-NINE SIGNATURES of the Regicides, and Corresponding seals, admirably executed on paper made to imitate the Original Document, 22 inches by 14 inches. 2s., by post on roller 2s 4d
COPIED BY EXPRESS PERMISSION.—King Charles I., January 20th, 1648, was brought from St. James's to Sir B. Cotton's house (now the Speaker's residence) and was four days arraigned at the Bar of the House of Commons by Bradshaw, and seventy-nine Judges Commissioners, named for his Trial. The original document was kept in the old House of Peers' Library, and being saved from the Fire was preserved in the Post's Tower, and is now under the librarian's care at the House of Lords. Some of the Regicides died in America, while many of the children of those executed at the Restoration betook themselves to that country, and laid the foundations of many of the first families in New England
- 3049 Warrant to Execute Mary Queen of Scots. The Exact Facsimile of this Important Document, including the Signature of Queen Elizabeth and Facsimile of the Great Seal, on tinted paper, made to imitate the original M.S. 2s., by post 2s 4d
"I praise and thank my God that it pleases Him to put an end by this to the many miseries and calamities that they have compelled me to endure; for, since nineteen years up to the present moment I have been constituted a prisoner, and very evilly entreated by the Queen of England, my sister, without ever having injured, as God is my principal witness."—Mary's Reply to my Lord Beale, who was commissioned to inform her of Elizabeth's Sentence of Death.

Engineering Works.

FIRST SERIES, RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION : from the setting out of the line to the completion of the works, for the Use of the Engineer, Contractor, &c. 2 vols. By W. D. HASKOLL, C.E. Price £2 12s 6d

This work is in 2 vols, Imperial 8vo, containing about 200 woodcuts, and engraved Diagrams, with copious text, and about 40 plates of executed works, the whole carefully figured.

SECOND SERIES, RAILWAY CONSTRUCTION. 2 vols.

By W. D. HASKOLL, C.E. Illustrated with 90 folding plates, with French and English Scales of Subjects, particularly useful to Engineers, Contractors, Students, &c. Price £3 3s. These 2 volumes, completing Mr. Haskoll's work on "Railway Construction," bound to correspond with the former 2 volumes; the 4 vols, taken together, for £5 5s

Some of the contents of these two vols. :
—Difference in the conditions of Railways in Europe and in high thermometric and partially inhabited regions. Camps and Labour Stations : their establishment, present and ulterior value. Earthworks. Cuttings and Embankments. Roads, Rivers, and Streams. Summer and Flood Waters. Passenger Stations, Stores, Warehouses and Sheds. Goods, Waggon, Cattle Waggon, and Cattle Pens. Masonry. Timber and treatment of Iron. Glass. Ventilation, Earthquakes, Minor Stations, temporary or permanent. Timber bridges and viaducts, permanent or temporary, their design and construction. Stone and brick bridges, their design and construction. Aqueducts and Culverts Wrought Iron plate girders, their design and construction. Wrought Iron triangular girders, their design and construction. Wrought Iron lattice girders, their design and construction. Wrought and Cast Iron in Piers, Pillars, and Foundations, Wing walls and retaining walls, in a scale of graduated heights, from the best French and English Examples. Docks and Dock gates. Timber Jetties. Timber and Wrought Iron Landing Piers. Terebo navals and creosoting. Cranes for various purposes of Timber and Wrought Iron. Wrought Iron and Timber fencing, gates, &c. Permanent way.

A NEW WORK on BLAST ENGINES, Price £3 3s., Illustrated with large folding Copper-plate Engravings, giving Working Drawings to Scale. The Letter-press describing the Best Principles of Construction. By HIRAM CRAVEN COULTHARD, C.E and M.E.

Some of the Drawings of this Work having from time to time come under the observation of Engineers, Ironmasters, and others, who spoke in flattering terms of them, has induced the Author to publish this Work on Blast Engines, &c., giving the complete set of working drawings for the carrying out of the same.

As such it is confidently anticipated that it will be received as a valuable addition for the use of Engineers and Ironmasters, at home and abroad, it being the Author's experience in carrying out large contracts, and is therefore most valuable as a practical work.

As no work of the kind is extant, and its contents are thoroughly practical, to all Engineers, Iron Manufacturers, &c., employed in planning or erecting Smelting Furnaces or Blast Engines, it will be invaluable; and to the general public it will be interesting, as giving an insight into the Manufacture of iron, an article of immense wealth to England. The Letter-press Folio is produced on the best paper, and the Volume half bound in morocco.

THE PRACTICE of ENGINEERING FIELD WORK.

Vol. 1, applied to Land, Hydrographic, and Hydraulic Surveying and Levelling, for Railways, Canals, Harbours, Towns, Water Supply, Ranging Curves and Centre Lines, Gauging Streams, etc., including the description and use of Surveying and Levelling Instruments, and the practical application of Trigonometrical Tables. Illustrated by numerous Plans and Diagrams. By W. DAVIS HASKOLL, Civil Engineer, Author of "Railway Construction," etc.

To remedy deficiencies, and at the same time to supply such numerous practical examples and rules as are constantly required in the multifarious operations of English Engineering Surveyors now engaged in every quarter of the globe, and to bring these within the compass of one volume, have been the object of the Author's labours in the work now submitted to the Profession. New edition in 1 vol., 8vo, Cloth, with Plates, £1. 4s.

"Mr. Haskoll's book might fairly be called 'Land Surveying without a Master,' its instructions are so full and so clear. It begins at the beginning, and takes nothing for granted; and those who master its teachings will find few difficulties in the field they will not be able to overcome. In addition to what is shown of its scope by the title, the book includes notes on the description and use of surveying and levelling instruments, and the practical application of trigonometrical tables, and is illustrated by numerous plans and diagrams. We may safely recommend it."—Builder.

"A sound practical work on the subject of Waterworks is at the present time of especial interest to the engineering profession, on account of the great variety of views which have arisen in the last few years on the question of water supply. Mr. Haskoll gives us very full information on the subject. In acknowledging our sense of the author's competence to treat his subject, we must not omit to mention that the work is got up in a way that does great credit to the publishers."—Civil and Mechanical Engineer, 1st May, 1868.

"Mr. Haskoll's treatises on engineering subjects are already too well known and appreciated to need much commendation at our hands. The present volume is a second edition of a work which has been favourably noticed in our pages, but many important revisions and additions have been made to the original. It enters into the minutest details connected with surveying—and, in its new form, is undoubtedly the best and most complete manual of field work existing. Well-finished diagrams are added, illustrating the letter-press."—Railway News, May 23rd, 1868.

"We have not thought it necessary to say much in praise of this work, as the source from which it issues and the nature of its contents will be doubtless sufficient to induce an immediate purchase by those who require such aid. The volume is not, moreover, a novelty, but has in its first edition obtained such a character among scientific readers as renders praise superfluous, and being again published in an improved and enlarged form, must gain still greater favour from that class of scientific men who have become familiar with the use of its valuable contents. The book is well printed on stout paper, strongly bound, and altogether in the usual good style of the old-established and highly respectable firm whose name it bears."—Colliery Guardian.

ATCHLEY'S CIVIL ENGINEERS' and CONTRACTORS'

ESTIMATE and PRICE BOOK, with Specifications for Labour and Materials, Contractors' Plants and Tools, with Rules and Examples for the Construction of Public Works, Illustrated with plates and woodcuts. By W. D. HASKOLL, C.E. To which is added "THE LAW OF CONTRACTS." Cloth, 21s

"A very useful volume, intended to facilitate the preparation of estimates for tenders for public works."—Mining Journal.

"We heartily commend the utility, usefulness, and value of this work."—Builders' Weekly Reporter.

THE ENGINEER'S POCKET REMEMBRANCER, an

Epitome of Data, Rules, and Formulae, applicable to Civil, Mechanical, Marine, Hydraulic, Light-house, Telegraphic, Gas, and Railway Engineering, Surveying, etc. By FRANCIS CAMPIN, C.E., Author of "A Practical Treatise on Mechanical Engineering," etc., etc. 2nd Edition with Appendix, fcap. 8vo, cloth, 5s 6d.

THE PRACTICE of ENGINEERING FIELD WORK.

Vol 2, Waterworks, or the Distribution of Water in Towns under the Constant and Intermittent Systems, Gauging Streams, Sewers, Sewage, and Irrigation. By W. DAVIS HASKOLL, C.E. Price 20s.

These important subjects are ably dealt with in the volume before us. Mr. Haskoll dashes into his great subject of water supply rather abruptly, and in such style as to convey the impression, which his text serves to confirm, that he is perfectly familiar with his subject. The mass of facts and observations brought together upon the subject, as a whole, is so complete as to entitle Mr. Haskoll's book to rank as an indisputable authority upon many points of this important subject, and to be accepted as a trustworthy guide by all who are concerned in this branch of engineering practice.—Mechanics' Magazine, March 6, 1868.

The volume now before us contains much valuable and interesting information on the important subjects of which it treats, and not the less so that the author has avoided giving a mass of mathematical formulas, and preferred substituting common sense examination of what has been done and what is doing in regard to towns' water supply, the design and construction of sewers, and the subject of sewage and irrigation, all intimately connected. He has supplied that which was much required by giving a clear and impartial investigation of the opinions of our leading engineers on the subjects of the distribution of water, of sewers, and sewage and irrigation. He certainly appears to think that with regard to all these momentous questions we are in a state of transition, and that great changes must shortly take place, and he particularly invites our young and active spirits to abandon the field of railway engineering. An exhaustive examination of sewage and irrigation is given in chapter five, where detailed accounts are to be found, not of numerous theories, but of the actual methods by which sewage has been disposed of successfully or otherwise; a most interesting collection has been made of the opinions of all our most scientific men, as well as of all our best practical agriculturists. The book will be found a convenient work of reference to every engineer who is interested in questions which have become of national importance.—Manchester Examiner and Times, March, 24, 1868.

ATCHLEY'S BUILDERS' PRICE BOOK for 1868, containing a complete List of the present Prices of Builders' Materials and Labour, with most useful and important Tables and Memoranda for preparing Estimates, etc., for the use of Architects, Engineers, Contractors, Builders, etc.; Also THE UNION OF TRUE CONSTRUCTION WITH GOOD TASTE. By an Architect. 4s; or, by post 4s. 3d.

"A strictly technical book, indispensable to all who are concerned in building, or who may decide upon laying out their capital in constructions for commercial use, shelter, or ornament. Deserves the consideration of all engaged in constructing and ornamenting our dwellings.—The Morning Advertiser."

"This book contains a list of the present prices of building materials and labour, and of the building trades. It is full of valuable information."—Building News.

"Old methods of construction have become almost as obsolete as that employed in the erection of the Pyramids. The present work, which gives a complete revision of tariffs and schedules, will prove most welcome to the building trade."—The Railway News.

"Messrs. Atchley have produced the most complete Price Book we have yet seen, and its fulness, especially in matters that are too numerous and various to become fixed in any one memory, will prove of great service."—The Builders' Trade Circular.

"The amount of information in this little volume is astonishing."—The Bookseller.

"Of the numerous 'price books' that have come under our notice, we have no hesitation in saying that this one of Atchley's is by far the best."—The Irish Builder.

"The prices in this book have all been revised by practical men belonging to the several building trades, there is less likelihood that those absurd errors should have crept into the book which these compilations are subject to."—The Manchester Courier.

INCITEMENTS to the STUDY of the STEAM ENGINE, 2nd

Edition, enlarged. By W. TEMPLETON, Engineer. Cloth, 5s.

This is the last work written by Mr. Templeton, and his best work.

SURVEYING, LEVELLING, and ENGINEERING ARITH-

METIC; or, the Practice of Surveying and Levelling, being a Plain Explanation of the Subject, and of the Instruments employed. Illustrated with Suitable Plans, Sections, and Diagrams. In one vol., 8vo, originally published at 10s. 6d., now reduced to 5s., with large Steel Engravings of Simm's Theodolite, the Gravett Level, and other Instruments, etc., etc.

MINING, ENGINEERING, LAND AND RAILWAY SUR-

VEYING. By H. D. HOSKOLD, Mining Engineer and Surveyor.

Price 30s., cloth.

"The volume now before us appears to well fulfil the desiderata of civil and mining engineering. An introduction—excellent in its matter—is furnished to the book by Mr. Mark Fryar, 'Lecturer in the Glasgow Mining School.' The first chapter is on the miner's compass and its errors, and it is one of the best in the work. The principal chapters, devoted to subterranean or mining surveying, are excellent. The adjustment of the theodolite,—traversing underground,—setting out railways to mines,—longitudinal and transverse sections,—are all handled by a man evidently thoroughly acquainted with these operations. Mr. Hoskold also publishes for the first time several ingenious devices and improved plans for surveying; such as a new plan of uniting surveys, that we strongly recommend to the notice of our readers. The traverse tables at the end of the book will be of very great use to surveyors. Without having practically tested Mr. Hoskold's new form of theodolite, we like its appearance extremely, and we would recommend an intending purchaser of a theodolite to give his attention to this form of the instrument."—The Civil Engineer and Architects' Journal.

"Throughout the book there are illustrations of various methods of surveying under conditions of intricacy and difficulty, and practical problems are solved in a simple and intelligible style; and what we would point out as a special excellency is a most comprehensive and invaluable set of 'tables of distances from planes of meridian and latitude, calculated to every two minutes in the quadrant, and by differences to twenty seconds.' Concerning these tables the author says—'The proof sheets were carefully compared with the MS., corrected, and read over three separate times by different persons each time. A new proof was then taken from the press, compared with a duplicate of the preceding ones, and afterwards every number composing the tables was recalculated. They were then returned to the press for alteration and finally stereotyped.'

"We recommend Mr. Hoskold's book to every mineral surveyor. No mining office should be without it, and no surveyor should be ignorant of the very accurate methods of surveying which it teaches."—Colliery Guardian.

"We most cordially recommend this work to our mining friends."—The Mining Journal.

"Mr. Hoskold's work is of a decidedly superior class, and we have no doubt that the great extension of underground railways will cause this work to meet with a ready sale."—The Builder.

FACTS and FALLACIES of the SEWAGE SYSTEM of

LONDON AND OTHER LARGE TOWNS. Being a complete exposition of its enormous defects; shewing the pestilence spread by its deposits in the sewers, and the impossibility of removing the matter by flushing; with plans for its purification, completely preventing the generation of poisonous gases, and not permitting a particle of filth to enter the River Thames. Price 3s. 6d., 8vo, with many large folding Plates: Shewing Plans, Sections, and Elevations of the Sewerage of London, and the means for remedying the existing evils.

A PRACTICAL TREATISE upon MECHANICAL ENGI-

NEERING; including Metallurgy, Manipulation, Manufacture, and the Principles and Construction of the Steam Engine, demy 8vo, price 27s, illustrated with 28 plates of Workshop Machinery, Boilers, Pumping, Rotative, Marine, Locomotive, Traction, and Steam Fire Engines, and 91 woodcuts; with an Appendix on the Analysis of Iron and Iron Ore. By FRANCIS CAMPIN.

A PRACTICAL COURSE of MILITARY SURVEYING and DRAWING. Illustrated with 38 plates and 160 woodcuts, by Captain LENDY, F.G.S., F.L.S., Director of the Military College at Sunbury, and author of several Military Works. Imperial 8vo, cloth, 25s

"Every volunteer would enjoy a military survey of his district; and to make it himself would invest it, as well as his amateur profession, with new lights, and at the same time qualify him for real work of the same kind, should the need for it ever come to pass. The heads of schools, too, will find from the same cause, a relish for martial matters in those under their care. To these classes of students, as well as to the cadets for whom it was intended, Captain Lendy's practical work will be very serviceable."—Builder, Oct. 15, 1864.

"The object of the present treatise is to simplify the difficulties which exist in acquiring topographical skill, and to accomplish this the Author has evidently taken much pains. The student or casual reader will derive much assistance in mastering the technical difficulties of surveying by means of the plates of figures with which the Author has illustrated this treatise. They are cleverly executed, and well calculated for the purpose intended, and afford additional evidence of the pains taken by the Author to convey to those who require it some portion of the valuable information which he evidently is possessed of."—Army and Navy Gazette, October 22nd, 1864.

Second Edition, Corrected and Improved.

THE OFFICE AND CABIN COMPANION, for Engineers and Officers of Steam Vessels; consisting of Observations, Rules, and Tables, to facilitate such Calculations as Naval Officers and Engineers are called upon to make. By J. SIMON HOLLAND, Assoc. I.N.A., Chief Draughtsman to the Steam Branch of the Controller of the Navy's Department; formerly Chief Engineer, R.N. Price 5s 6d, bound in cloth.

Few men have had such excellent opportunities of finding out what naval officers and engineers require to have put into their hands as Mr. Holland, and few men would have known how to use them better than he. The appearance of his name on the title-page of the little work before us assured us that we had at last secured an engineer's pocket book, or "Cabin Companion," as it is here called, in which perfect clearness of treatment was combined with no less perfect accuracy in detail; and an examination of its pages entirely confirms our anticipation. So satisfied are we that the author has supplied a very necessary work in a very admirable manner, that we have no hesitation in predicting the almost universal use of this handbook among marine engineers and naval officers. —Engineer.

STEAM ON COMMON ROADS, fully Illustrated; showing the Economy, Use, and Power of the Engine on Common Roads, its practical value to Agriculturists, Railway Companies, Mine and Coal Owners, Quarry Proprietors, Contractors, &c. By C. T. F. YOUNG, C.E., Member of the Society of Engineers; with its History and Progress in the United States. By ALEX. L. HOLLEY, C.E., and J. K. FISHER, Engineer of New York, U.S.A. Post 8vo, cloth, 444 pages, reduced to 10s 6d

The very interesting volume of Mr. Young, which is the first of its order, at least for the last five and twenty years. Mr. Young's book is a very timely one; and, so far as we have noticed, does fair justice to the subject, and is ably written, forming an interesting as well as important volume at the present moment.—Builder.

The whole question of steam locomotion is very fully discussed, with a keen perception of the requirements of the present age, and a no less intimate acquaintance with the history of the subject. We are unable, within our limits, to give an adequate idea of the contents of Mr. Young's book; but we have said enough to direct attention to a work which, to use a stereotyped phrase, should be in the hands of all interested in the subject of which it treats. —Building News.

THE LATHE AND ITS USES, for Amateur and Professional

Turners: Instruction in the Art of Turning Wood and Metal, including a description of the most Modern Appliances for the Ornamentation of Plain and Curved Surfaces, with an Appendix, in which is described an entirely novel form of Lathe for Eccentric and Rose Engine Turning; a Lathe and Planing Machine combined; and other valuable matter relating to the Art. Copiously Illustrated. Price Fifteen Shillings.

Architectural Works.

THE HANDBOOK OF SPECIFICATIONS; or Practical

Guide to the Architect, Engineer, Surveyor, and Builder, in drawing up Specifications and Contracts for Works and Constructions. Illustrated by Precedents of Buildings actually executed by eminent Architects and Engineers. Preceded by a Preliminary Essay, and Skeletons of Specifications and Contracts, &c., &c., and explained by numerous lithograph Plates and Cuts. By PROFESSOR THOMAS L. DONALDSON, President of the Royal Institute of British Architects, Professor of Architecture and Construction, University College, London M.I.B.A., Member of the various European Academies of the Fine Arts. Accompanied by a Review of the Law of Contracts, and of the Responsibilities of Architects, Engineers, and Builders. By W. CUNNINGHAM GLEN, Barrister-at-law, of the Middle Temple. 2 vols., 8vo., containing 1,100 Pages of Letter-press, with full Illustrations, £4.

"In these two volumes of 1,100 pages (together), forty-four specifications of executed works are given, including the specifications for parts of the new Houses of Parliament, by Sir Charles Barry, and for the new Royal Exchange, by Mr. Tite, M.P. The latter, in particular, is a very complete and remarkable document. It embodies, to a great extent, as Mr. Donaldson mentions, 'the bill of quantities with the description of the works,' and occupies more than 100 printed pages.

"Amongst the other known buildings, the specifications of which are given, are the Wiltshire Lunatic Asylum (Wyatt and Brandon); Tothill-fields Prison (R. Abraham); the City Prison, Holloway (Bunning); the High School, Edinburgh (Hamilton); Clothworkers' Hall, London (Angell); Wellington College, Sandhurst (J. Shaw); houses in Grosvenor-square, and elsewhere; St. George's Church, Doncaster (Scott); several works of smaller size by the Author, including Messrs. Shaw's warehouse, in Fetter-lane, a very successful elevation; the Newcastle-upon-Tyne Railway Station (J. Dobson); new Westminster Bridge (Page);

the High-level Bridge, Newcastle (R. Stephenson); various works on the Great Northern Railway (Brydone); and one French specification for houses in the Rue de Rivoli, Paris (MM. Armand, Hittorff, Pellechet, and Rohault de Fleury, architects). The last is a very elaborate composition, occupying seventy pages. The majority of the specifications have illustrations in the shape of elevations and plans.

"We are most glad to have the present work. It is valuable as a record, and more valuable still as a book of precedents.

"About 140 pages of the second volume are appropriated to an exposition of the Law in relation to the legal liabilities of engineers, architects, contractors, and builders, by Mr. W. Cunningham Glen, Barrister-at-law; intended rather for these persons than for the legal practitioner. Suffice it in conclusion, to say in words, what our readers will have gathered for themselves, from the particulars we have given, that Donaldson's Handbook of Specifications must be bought by all architects."

STREET-VILLA, AND COTTAGE ARCHITECTURE. By

S. H. BROOKS, Architect, Author of Villa and Cottage Architecture. Comprising a Series of Original Designs for Street Elevations and Shop Fronts, in the Grecian, Gothic, Italian, Tudor, Elizabethan, and Louis XIV. Styles, Erections suited for new Railway Towns and Buildings, for the Embellishment of Gentlemen's Demesnes, giving Specifications, Estimates, Quantities, Prices, and numerous Practical Remarks; also several Improved Methods of Construction never before given in any Work, with Measured Drawings of Plans, Elevations, Details, Sections, and views. In one volume, folio, Thirty-six Plates, price £2 2s.

AN ANALYSIS of ANCIENT DOMESTIC Architecture :

Exhibiting the best existing Examples in Great Britain, from Drawings and Measurements taken on the spot. By F. T. DOLLMAN & J. R. JOBBINS. A complete practical book of References for the Architect and Amateur. This Work was commenced for the purpose of taking a thoroughly comprehensive view of the subject, without confining its scope to locality, or any isolated or particular class of Edifices. It is a recognized fact that the plans and general arrangement of ancient Domestic buildings, though replete with interest to the Antiquary and Archaeologist in their researches, are as regards adaptation to modern requirements almost valueless, or at the utmost but partially suggestive. In the Analysis of Ancient Domestic Architecture, attention is chiefly devoted to the accurate delineation of such details as Windows, Doors, Fireplaces, Chimney Stacks, Paneling, Wood-work, etc., etc., with their mouldings and ornamental features, to an enlarged scale, and where they are to be met with, the minor and comparatively rare accessories of Iron-work of all kinds, external and internal fittings and furniture. 2 Vols. half bound morocco, cloth sides; top edge gilt, 1st Vol. containing 81 Plates and descriptive letterpress, 2nd Vol. 80 Plates, &c., price £5 5s.

"Mr. Dollman before now has done something to illustrate the Ancient Domestic Architecture of Great Britain, and this work, following the same path, is intended to form a complete book of reference for the architect and amateur."—Builder.

"The examples in the present work are extremely well chosen, and the elevations and details are drawn to a larger scale than usual, with a view to supply an architectural want that has long been experienced, both by students and professors."—Notes and Queries.

"This book, produced by Mr. Dollman, is sufficiently comprehensive to give really an analysis of the subject. A concise descriptive account accompanies each subject, and at the same time incidentally refers to such other features of interest as may also exist in the buildings. The book has been prepared with the care usually evinced by Mr. Dollman, and the work well sustains the reputation for representation and artistic powers of execution already earned by the producers."—Architects' Journal.

"A collection of carefully and artistically-executed lithographs, and a most useful book of reference for the antiquary, the architect,—indeed for everyone who takes an interest in the architecture of our forefathers."—Manchester Examiner and Times.

DETAIL DRAWINGS AND SKETCHES Measured and

Drawn from ECCLESIASTICAL and DOMESTIC BUILDINGS of the MIDDLE AGES in ENGLAND and France. By FREDERICK ROGERS, Architect, London. These Plates form the First Part of a Series now in course of publication, the subjects of which have been selected from measured Sketches taken at Rouen, Chartres, Mantes, Etampes, Lisieux, Caen, and Bayeux; and from Canterbury, Glastonbury, Wells, Salisbury, Ely, Lincoln, York, Fountains, Kirkstall, Byland, Selby, Whitby, Rievaulx, Furness, and other buildings. The whole of the subjects have been carefully drawn and measured from English and French buildings by the Author, and in most cases drawn to scale. The selection has been made from some of the earliest Abbeys and Cathedrals, and from the most interesting Domestic examples. The Author trusts that this scheme of bringing together, in the same work, examples from the mediæval remains of the two countries, will not be to the disadvantage of the English work, and that it may be found a ready method of measuring the beauties of both. Bound in half morocco, £2 2s

EXECUTED EXAMPLES by MODERN ARCHITECTS.

With 26 Plates, some folded, and Letterpress, 4to, Super royal, cloth, price £2 2s. The contents of the Work embrace Cathedrals, Churches, Schools, Mansions, Public Buildings, Alterations, Restorations, and other Works. By G. GILBERT SCOTT, Esq., and other Architects. This Work is a first attempt to gather into a volume a varied selection of the works recently erected in the United Kingdom, so as to bring them before the student, that he may be aware of their existence, design, and treatment.

ENGLISH MANSIONS, VILLAS, LODGES, &c., by F. ROGERS, Architect, being a Series of Original Designs, with Plans, Specifications, and Estimates illustrating the requirements of Modern Architecture, imperial 4to, 24 Tinted Plates, with Ground Plans, &c., £2 2s.

"The book is particularly rich in designs for houses to cost from £1,000 to £2,000, and this is just the class of house for which good designs are especially needed. We should be glad to see this work and others of the same class more extensively circulated amongst builders and employers. There are few (if any) that will not contrast very favourably with most of those we see around us, while many of them might furnish useful hints even to the professional architect. Many of the designs for smaller houses are very picturesque, and exhibit the Author's power over a variety of materials.—Manchester Examiner and Times.

ENGLISH COTTAGES, for the ARTISAN and AGRICULTURAL LABOURER, with Tinted Plates, Plans, Bills of Quantities, Specifications, all Details, and Estimates. Cloth, lettered, £1 1s.

"Above all things, the cost of such buildings is extremely moderate, the Author of the work having so framed his plans as to make cottages a fair investment. To country landlords ambitious to be their own architects, the work will prove specially serviceable; but builders in general may derive many useful hints from the volume."—Press and St. James's Chronicle, January 19th, 1867.

"We are under the necessity of saying that a more practical work upon cottages for the labouring poor never before came under our notice. The plans appear to be studied with great care, so that not a foot of work is wasted; and the same principle is carried out in the elevations."—Manchester Examiner and Times.

"With a lively recollection of old feelings we opened the book before us, expecting to see paltry designs, incomplete specifications, and insufficient estimates—something, in short, of no use to a practical man, and worse than useless, misleading to the non-practical part of the public. We have been, however, agreeably disappointed."—Builders' Trade Circular, November, 1866.

"With such a guide in his hand, the landlord disposed to do his duty by the labourers on his estate will be able to see what his work is and how to set about it. He may also learn from it that the sacrifices demanded of him are not so heavy as he has been led to suppose."—Daily News, November 22nd, 1866.

SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL HOUSES, Parochial and National, in the Gothic, Old English, Tudor, and Elizabethan Styles, illustrated by a Series of Plans, Elevations, and Perspective Views, with Estimates, and Descriptive Letter-press. By H. E. KENDALL, Jun., M.I.B.A., F.S.A. In one vol., folio, Twenty-one Plates, beautifully lithographed, price £2 2s, cloth.

COTTAGE-VILLAS, COUNTRY RESIDENCES, PARSONAGES, and SCHOOLS, with Elevations, Plans, and Estimates. By W. PATTISON, Architect. Folio, 33 Plates, cloth, 25s.

"The Plans of this Work are very good."—Building News.

THE ANCIENT HALF-TIMBERED HOUSES of England.

By M. HABERSHON, Architect. 36 beautifully executed plates, india proof impressions. It has been a principal object in thus bringing these ancient Residences of our forefathers before the public, not merely to furnish correct and picturesque Views, but in imitation of the Works above alluded to, to render them scientifically useful. For this purpose the most ample details are given, and the Author has endeavoured to select and arrange them that they may without difficulty be understood and easily applied. Only ten copies of this choice Work left. Price £3 8s. proof impressions. Plain paper copies, £2 10s.

"My purpose in issuing this book has been threefold; first, to trace and delineate the gradual and successive developments and mutual influences of various schools of early Christian and Mediæval Architecture, owing to ritual changes, national character, or the intercourse of the builders with other countries; thirdly, to show the original type of conventual arrangements, with its subsequent divergencies and modifications induced by the special requirements of particular orders of religions.—Author's Preface.

"The whole work forms a complete and most useful and valuable compendium of information on the subject of church and conventual arrangement."—The Builder.

"An invaluable and almost inexhaustible fund of reference, collected from the most unquestionable sources, comprehensively classified; and therefore its desirability of acquisition by archaeologists and those, either professionally or otherwise, engaged in the study of church or conventual architecture is placed beyond question."—Dublin Builder.

Fine Art.

THE ARTS Connected with Architecture; Illustrated by Examples in Central Italy, of Stained Glass, Fresco Ornament, Marble and Enamel, Inlay, Wood Inlay, etc., from the 13th to the 15th Century. By J. B. WARING, from Drawings lately purchased by the Board of Trade for the Department of Science and Art. In Super-royal Folio, price Six Guineas, half bound morocco; in Columbian Folio, price Ten Guineas, half-bound morocco. This Work contains forty-one Plates, executed in the highest style of Chromo-Lithography. Descriptive and Historical letterpress is given, in order to make the Work complete in every respect, and to render it as useful to students as to professional men. A Bond has been entered into for £500 not to reduce the price of this Work.

"So elaborate, costly, and suggestive a work as that which has been produced by Mr. J. B. Waring, with the aid of Mr. Vincent Brooks, deserves to be set as prominently before those who are interested in the subject of it, or are likely to be acted on by it, as our means will admit of. To produce a work by means of chromolithography, containing forty-one large folio plates, blazing with colour, accompanied with historical and descriptive letterpress, on paper de luze, solidly bound, involves no small risk financially; and the effort, when worthily made, as this is, should be supported by those who concern themselves with the arts of the country. It is not every individual, however well-disposed, who can afford six guineas for a book; but the more wealthy buyers, public bodies, municipal libraries, and schools of design, should consider it their duty to assist in such cases by the purchase of copies."—Builder.

ORNAMENTAL and EARLY ENGLISH ALPHABETS, Initial Letters, &c., for Engravers, Designers. Marble Masons, Painters,

MEXICO ILLUSTRATED. In 26 beautiful Lithographed Plates, Letter-press in English and Spanish. Half morocco, folio, £4 4s, or in a Portfolio, coloured by hand, £10 10s.

"This volume is amongst the best of those books of lithographic views which modern art has hitherto produced. It contains 26 drawings of the scenery of Mexico, both of the natural appearance of the country, and of the architectural edifices of the towns and cities. The architectural drawing is without stiffness, and the minute details are elaborate and artistical."—Times.

"This work is one of the best and cheapest that has been written on the subject, and from the pen and pencil of a practical man, who has had the advantage of being able to see his instructions carried into effect under his own inspection, as director of the class of ornamental drawing at the School of Design."—Civil Engineer and Architect's Journal.

"This is a Work in which great spirit for the benefit of the Arts is shown; the rules laid down are excellent; the whole of the work is completed by the Author, which, to praise too much, would appear a boast."—Weekly Dispatch.

"The above work will be found invaluable. The author combines with a sincere love of his profession the happy yet rare faculty of conveying instruction in a clear and pleasing manner. He shows us what to do and teaches us how to do it, and giving valuable hints and suggestions to the inventive and far advanced student, so that the work can be consulted with pleasure and profit by all."—Court Circular.

PAGE'S DECORATOR. A Series of 48 Plates, containing Designs for furniture in the Elizabethan and Louis Quatorze style, including Ornamental Alphabets, &c. 8vo, oblong, cloth, 6s.

 "These plates are etched with great freedom, and will remind the spectator of them, or reader of the book, of the Etchings of Rome (by Piranesi), to which they come nearer than any modern work of British Art of a similar class. Etching represents rugged grandeur, decay, dilapidation, and ruin admirably well, and has been happily chosen by the artist to depict what he had seen. The letterpress is well written, and the work is an addition to the Fine Arts, and the knowledge of the antiquary."—Times.

This is without doubt the most beautifully illustrated edition of "Honest Izaak's" charming Pastoral ever published. To the late tasteful publisher, Mr. Pickering, its production was literally a labour of love. Neither time nor expense were spared to render it worthy of the Arts and the importance of the subject, and the result was a union of literary and artistic talent which has rarely been equalled, and never surpassed.

WALES ILLUSTRATED IN A SERIES OF VIEWS, comprising the Picturesque Scenery, Towns, Castles, Seats of the Nobility and Gentry, Antiquities, with Historical and Topographical Descriptions. 4to, half bound morocco, illustrated with nearly 200 elegant views from Drawings by Henry Gastineau, proofs on india paper, £2 5s 1830

SOME OF THE CONTENTS OF THESE TWO VOLS.

Differences in the conditions of Railways in Europe and in high thermometric and partially inhabited regions; influence on elements of Construction, nature of works and cost. Imported labour; imported Materials. Lands, Privileges. Concessions. Contracts and Specifications. Deposit of types of construction. Camps and Labour Stations: their establishment. Present and ulterior value. Their buildings. Timber and sun-dried bricks. Description and management. Truck system and control. Labour. Payment. Fever and sick seasons. Earthworks. Cuttings and Embankments. Cost. Tools. European and native gangers. Drainage and carrying off flood waters. Roads, Rivers, and Streams. Summer and Flood Waters. Examples of various cases and management. Torrents and Mountain Districts. Entire alteration of regimen. Treatment and special provision in bridges and culverts. Dimensions. Foundations. Inverts. Wing Walls. Bond. Masonry and brickwork. Altering Stream Crossings from skew to square. Large spans for rivers. Small spans, sheet piling. Inverts, with buttress, cut waters and deep foundations. Cost. Crossings for flood shallows. Archwork. Brick making.

Passenger Stations, Stores, Warehouses & Sheds. Goods Wagons, Cattle Wagons, and Cattle pens. Masonry. Timber and treatment of Iron. Glass. Ventilation. Earthquakes. Minor stations. Temporary or permanent. Timber bridges and viaducts, permanent or temporary, their design and construction. Stone and brick bridges, their design and construction. Aqueducts and Culverts. Wrought Iron plate girders, their design and construction. Wrought Iron triangular girders, their design and construction. Wrought Iron lattice girders, their design and construction. Foundations. Wingwalls and retaining walls in a scale of graduated heights, from the best French and English Examples. Docks and Dock gates. Timber Jetties. Timber and Wrought Iron Landing Piers. Terebo navals and creosoting. [Iron. Cranes for various purposes of Timber & Wrought Wrought Iron and Timber fencing, gates, &c. Permanent way.

REVIEW.—"We are always favourably impressed by a technical work well furnished with illustrations; a good print or drawing can be understood in all countries. The character of the volume before us will thus be very fairly defined by an examination of the ninety-one well-executed plates forming the main portion of the work. We have thus some twenty-four plates of road bridges, bridges of masonry, timber, and iron plate, embodying most of the constructions required in ordinary practice, all of which have been practically carried out."—Builder, Nov. 28, 1868.

REVIEW FROM 'THE BUILDER.'

HAND-BOOK OF SPECIFICATIONS.

BY PROFESSOR DONALDSON,

PRESIDENT OF THE ROYAL INSTITUTE OF BRITISH ARCHITECTS.

"In these two volumes of 1100 pages (together), forty-four specifications of executed works are given, including the specifications for parts of the new Houses of Parliament, by Sir Charles Barry, and for the New Royal Exchange, by Mr. Tite, M.P. The latter, in particular, is a very complete and remarkable document. It embodies, to a great extent, as Mr. Donaldson mentions, "the bill of quantities with the description of the works," and occupies more than 100 printed pages. The contract specifications and correspondence connected with the erection of the Houses of Parliament occupy eighty-two pages, and are accompanied with a plan of the principal floor. Some of the tenders for the work here given include lists of prices.

"Amongst the other known buildings, the specifications of which are given, are the Wiltshire Lunatic Asylum (Wyatt and Brandon); Tothill-fields Prison (R. Abraham); the City Prison, Holloway (Bunning); the High School, Edinburgh (Hamilton); Clothworkers' Hall, London (Angell); Wellington College, Sandhurst (J. Shaw); houses in Grosvenor-square, and elsewhere; St. George's Church, Doncaster (Scott); several works of smaller size by the author, including Messrs. Shaw's warehouse, in Fetter-lane, a very successful elevation; the Newcastle-upon-Tyne railway station (J. Dobson); new Westminster Bridge (Page); the High-level Bridge, Newcastle (R. Stephenson); various works on the Great Northern Railway (Brydone); and one French specification for houses in the Rue de Rivoli, Paris (MM. Armand, Hittorff, Pellechet, and Rohault de Fleury, architects). The last is a very elaborate composition, occupying seventy pages. The majority of the specifications have illustrations in the shape of elevations and plans.

"At the commencement Mr. Donaldson gives some suggestions on the Principles of drawing up a specification; a skeleton specification for erecting a building; hints for specification of dilapidations; a model contract; general conditions of contract for engineering work (drawn up by Mr. James Simpson); model forms of terms for letting building grounds.

"About 140 pages of the second volume are appropriated to an exposition of the Law in relation to the legal liabilities of engineers, architects, contractors, and builders, by Mr. W. Cunningham Glen, barrister-at-law; intended rather for these persons than for the legal practitioner. This part of the work treats of—1. Contracts generally; 2. Contracts with corporations; 3. Extra works; 4. Party walls and injuries to buildings; 5. Arbitrations; 6. The relation of architects and surveyors to employers; 7. The liability of contractors for damage done to works; 8. The liability of masters for injuries to servants in the course of their employment, and other persons; 9. Differences between masters and workmen; 10. Combinations of masters and of workmen, strikes, &c.; and 11. The Truck system. The Chapter on Contracts with Corporations, and that on Extra Works, are valuable. Suffice it, in conclusion, to say in words, what our readers will have gathered for themselves from the particulars we have given, that Donaldson's Handbook of Specifications must be bought by all architects."—Builder.

Printed at Brittain's Bursse for John Budge, 1611
The copy in the British Museum is the only other traceable.
- 297 GOSSON (Stephen) Playes Confuted in fine Actions, proving that they are not to be suffered in a Christian Commonweale; by the way, both the Cautils of Thomas Lodge, and the Play of Playes, written in their Defence, and other Obstructions of Players Frenches, are truly set downe and directly Answered. 12mo, new red morocco extra, gilt edges, (a portion of right hand corner of title very neatly supplied in facsimile) £8. 8s (1580)
An answer to "Lodge's Defence of Stage Plays," which was itself a reply to Gosson's "School of Abuse." Very few copies are known to exist; the Bodleian copy wants the title, and that in the British Museum, and one at Mr. Corser's sale, which fetched 6 guineas, are very inferior copies to the above. Garrick's fetched 9 guineas, and this is Bindley's copy; the same which is quoted by Lowndes at £6 6s; in binding, the leaves containing his inscription have been preserved.

- 665 TESTAMENT (New) The First New Testament printed in the English language (Worms, 1525 or 1526), Translated by William Tyndale, Reproduced in facsimile, with Introduction by Francis Fry. Small 8vo, cloth, only 177 copies printed. £7. 17s 6d 1888
This is a reproduction of the only known copy of the first edition of Tyndale's New Testament, perhaps the most interesting book in our language. It contains 693 pages of almost small type; is a faithful representation of the original; and will be valued not only as a version, but as showing the state of the English language.
"To prove the correctness of the work (says the editor) I have compared a proof of every page, folding it so as to place each line parallel with, and close to, the same line in the original: so that, by comparing the line all along, I could easily see if it was correct. In this way I have examined every line throughout the volume, and I believe that not a single incorrect letter will be found in it."

792 AN INDEX to the Printed Pedigrees of English Families contained in County and Local Histories, the "Heralds' Visitations," and in the more important Genealogical Collections. By CHARLES BRIDGER. Thick 8vo, cloth. 10s 6d
A similar work to Sims' "Index of Pedigrees in the MSS. in the British Museum." What that is for Manuscripts this is for printed books. It is the most complete index of its kind, and contains more than 15,000 references—an indispensable book to those engaged in Genealogical pursuits, as information may be got in a few minutes, which otherwise might take days to find.

793 FOOT PRINTS of Former Men in Far Cornwall (Sketches of Places, Men, and Manners). By the Rev. R. S. HAWKER, Vicar of Morwenstow, author of "Cornish Ballads," &c. Crown 8vo, cloth. 5s

794 NARES' (Arohd.) Glossary, or Collection of Words, Phrases, Customs, Proverbs, &c., illustrating the Works of English Authors, particularly Shakespeare and his Contemporaries. A new edition, with considerable Additions both of Words and Examples. By James O. Halliwell, F.R.S., and Thomas Wright, M.A., F.S.A. 2 thick vols, 8vo, cloth. £1. 1s

The Glossary of Archbishop Nares is by far the best and most useful work we possess for explaining and illustrating the obsolete language, and the customs and manners of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, and it is quite indispensable for the readers of the literature of the Elizabethan period. The additional words and examples are distinguished from those of the original text by a † prefixed to each. The work contains between five and six thousand additional examples, the result of original research, not merely supplementary to Nares, but to all other compilations of the kind.

795 HALLIWELL's "Dictionary of Archaic and Provincial Words, Obsolete Phrases, Proverbs, and Ancient Customs, from the Reign of Edward I. 2 vols, 8vo, containing upwards of 1,000 pages, closely printed in double columns, cloth, a new and cheaper edition. 15s

It contains above 50,000 words (embodying all the known glossaries of the English language), forming a complete key for the reader of our old Poets, Dramatists, Theologians, and other authors whose works abound with allusions, of which explanations are not to be found in ordinary dictionaries and books of reference. Most of the principal Archaisms are illustrated by examples selected from early inedited MSS. and rare books, and by far the greater portion will be found to be original authorities.

796 A DICTIONARY of the Language of Shakespeare. By SWINFEN JERVIS (the late), of Darlaston Hall, Staffordshire. 4to, pp. 378, in double columns, cloth (a cheap volume). 12s

PUBLICII (Jacobi) EPITOMA ARTIS ORATORIÆ, Ars Conficiendi Epistolas, et Ars Memorativa, with numerous ornamental initials and many very curious woodcuts, FIRST EDITION, sm. 4to. hf. cal., (wants sig. A 2, otherwise an excellent copy) £2. 2s

Venetis, E. Ratdold, 1455

This beautifully executed little volume which, in Mr. Douce's opinion, is the earliest book with woodcuts that was printed with moveable types, contains in the third part a treatise on Mnemonics, illustrated by means of an alphabet accompanied by grotesque figures of men, animals, &c. which symbolize the letters and convey an idea of their form. Besides these singular cuts there are others of an equally interesting nature to the Amateur. Dr. Dibdin, in the Bibliotheca Spenceriana, devotes more than 14 pages to facsimiles of the woodcuts and to a description of the book, which he calls "a curious, interesting, and uncommon volume." At the sale of the Merly library a copy realized £8. 18s 6d.

London, 1623; Reprint, Booth, 1864

A facsimile reprint of the Text of the far-famed First Edition of Shakespeare, "intact as it was put forth in 1623," with the doubtful words noted in a comprehensive list of corrigenda. Also an elaborate collation of the First Folio.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDIES, HISTORIES, AND TRAGEDIES, published according to the true original copies, THE SECOND IMPRESSION, VERY FINE COPY, with beautiful impression of the portrait by Droeshout, and the Verses by Ben Jonson, folio, morocco extra, gilt leaves, £25. 10s

T. Cotes for R. Allot, 1632

This rare edition, which at one time was thought to be more intrinsically valuable than its precursor, is one of the best printed books of the period. Mr. Daniel's copy sold for £148.

London, printed for P. C. 1664

"The publishers of the fourth edition of 1685 appear to have considered the destruction of the third (in the great fire of London) so extensive as to entitle them to treat it as a nonentity, and accordingly say upon their title page 'unto which is added seven plays, NEVER BEFORE PRINTED in folio,' though they had been previously added to this issue of the third edition, a certain proof of its great rarity in those days."—Note to Mr. Daniel's copy.

The seven plays are:—Pericles Prince of Tyre, the London Prodigall, the History of Thomas Lid. Cromwell, Sir John Oldcastle, Lord Cobham, the Puritan Widow, A Yorkshire Tragedy, the Tragedy of Loefne.

The above copy measures 13½ by 8½ inches. In March last year a copy realized at Sotheby's £200.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDIES, HISTORIES, AND TRAGEDIES, unto which is added Seven Playes never before printed in folio, FOURTH EDITION, portrait, with Ben Jonson's verses underneath, folio, crimson morocco extra, gilt leaves, a fine copy, £14. 14s 1685

The portrait and verses are mounted, and small portions of the margins of a very few leaves neatly repaired, otherwise the copy is a fine one.

Mr. Daniel's copy sold for £21. 10s, and Mr. Smith's in 1867 for £21.

SHAKESPEARE'S COMEDIES, HISTORIES, TRAGEDIES, AND POEMS, the Text formed from an entirely new collation of the Old Editions, with the various Readings, Notes, Life, Glossary, and History of the Early English Stage, by J. PAYNE COLLIER, Esq., F.S.A. Second and improved edition, elegantly printed in large type, with finely engraved Droeshout portrait, 6 thick vols. 8vo. new calf gilt, £4. 4s

Whittaker, 1858

SHAKESPEARE'S (W.) WORKS, THE TEXT FORMED FROM A NEW COLLATION OF THE EARLY EDITIONS; to which are added all the Original Novels and Tales on which the Plays are founded; copious Archaeological Annotations on each Play; an Essay on the formation of the Text; and a Life of the Poet, by J. O. Halliwell, Esq. handsomely printed on large and thick paper, illustrated by 142 plates, comprising facsimiles of portions of rare editions of the author's works, portraits, views, etc. and a multitude of elegant wood engravings by Fairbairn, 16 vols. folio, hf. morocco, edges uncut, £75. 1853-5

The impression of this truly magnificent edition of the works of Shakespeare was strictly limited to 150 copies, and to render the subscribers secure against the depreciation of their property, all the engravings were destroyed by the editor and Mr. Fairholt. Mr. Halliwell's object has been "to produce an edition of the works of Shakespeare, accompanied by a collection of all the facts and documents respecting their literary history of any importance that have yet been discovered; by copious and discursive annotations on their obsolete phraseology, and obscure allusions, elucidated, by archaeological engravings, and by illustrative extracts from contemporary works, exhibiting the popular opinion of the time on natural history, science, and philosophy, many of which are adopted or alluded to by the great dramatist." The end of the Editor has been fully attained by the publication of this work, which places within certain limits, a complete library of everything tending to illustrate the writings of the Bard of Avon.

SHAKESPEARE'S DRAMATIC WORKS AND POEMS, Valpy's Cabinet Edition, with Life, Notes, &c. and 170 outline engravings after the great English masters, ORIGINAL EDITION, 15 vols. fcap. 8vo. cloth, £1. 16s 1832
